PRODUCT OVERVIEW
Obtaining USDA Credit	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> » Form RD 3555-21, “Request for Single Family Housing Loan Guarantee” requires both REMN WS and the borrower to certify that the borrower is unable to secure credit from other sources upon terms and conditions which the borrower can reasonably fulfill. The certification can be made if the borrower does not meet the requirements to obtain a traditional conventional credit loan. Traditional conventional credit is defined for Agency purposes as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> – The borrower has available personal non-retirement liquid verifiable asset funds of at least 20% of the purchase price that can be used as a down payment; – The borrower can, in addition to the 20% down payment, pay all closing costs associated with the loan; – The borrower can meet qualifying ratios of no more than 28% PITI and 36% TD when applying the 20% down payment; – The borrower demonstrates qualifying credit for such a loan. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ The conventional mortgage loan term is for a 30- year fixed rate loan term without a condition to obtain private mortgage insurance (PMI). » If the borrower meets the cumulative criteria of traditional conventional credit, as defined by the Agency above; the borrower is ineligible for the SFHGLP. » It remains the underwriter’s responsibility to support the criteria of this section. However, when the criteria identified in the first three bullet points above are met, documentation to support ineligibility for conventional credit should be submitted to the agency as part of the complete loan application. In all cases, documentation to support ineligibility for conventional credit will be retained in REMN WS’s permanent case file. » Liquid assets for conventional credit down payment purposes typically consist of cash or cash equivalents. Cash or cash equivalents include funds in the borrower’s checking or savings accounts, or investments in stocks, bonds, mutual funds, certificates of deposit, and money market funds, unless they were encumbered (pledges as collateral) or otherwise inaccessible without substantial penalty. Cash equivalents do not include funds in Individual Retirement Accounts, 401(k) accounts, Keogh accounts, or other retirement accounts that are restricted and may not be accessed without incurring substantial monetary penalties. Educational college savings plans, such as a 529 Plan, which incur a penalty to withdraw, is not considered a cash equivalent. Owning land is not considered a liquid asset. Land cannot typically be converted to cash quickly without minimal impact to the price received and ease in transfer of ownership.
Excluded Party Lists	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> » REMN WS requires that a DataVerify DRIVE report be generated and analyzed for all loans at approval and updated prior to underwriting clearance.
CAIVRS	Previous Rural Housing and Community Development (RHCD) Loans <ul style="list-style-type: none"> » Rural Housing shall determine whether the borrower has had a previous USDA mortgage debt which was settled, or is subject to settlement, or whether RHCD otherwise suffered a loss on a loan to the borrower. If RHCD suffered any loss related to a previous loan, a loan guarantee shall not be issued unless RHCD determines the RHCD loss was beyond the borrower’s control and any identifiable reasons for the loss no longer exists. » USDA requires that a clear CAIVRS report be included in each loan file. If CAIVRS identifies a delinquent federal debt, REMN WS will immediately suspend processing of the loan application. » When the borrower provides REMN WS with official documentation that the delinquency has been paid in full or otherwise resolved, processing of the application will be continued. » An outstanding judgment obtained by the United States in a Federal Court (other than the United States Tax Court), which has been recorded, shall cause the borrower to be ineligible to receive a loan guarantee until the judgment is paid in full or otherwise satisfied. » RHCD loan guarantee funds may not be used to satisfy the judgment. » If the judgment remains unsatisfied or if the borrower is delinquent on a Federal debt and is unable to resolve the delinquency, REMN WS will reject the borrower. » CAIVRS must be ordered for all FHA, VA, and USDA loans.

Obtaining Non-Traditional Credit History

- » Some borrowers may not have an established credit history, but credit verified through alternative sources may indicate a willingness to pay recurring debts. Neither the lack of a credit history on a traditional credit report nor the borrower's decision to not use traditional credit can be used as a basis for rejection. For these borrowers, REMN WS will utilize alternative credit verification to establish the applicant's willingness to repay the requested loan. The alternative credit tradeline may be open, closed and/or paid in full by the borrower. It must have at least twelve (12) months of repayment history reported to be a valid alternative source to support validation of a credit score. REMN WS may develop a Non-Traditional Mortgage Credit Report (NTMCR). A NTMCR may be used as a substitute for an RMCR or MMCR/TRMCR. An NTMCR may not be used to offset derogatory references found in the borrower's RMCR or MMCR/TRMCR; it should not be utilized to enhance the credit history of a borrower with a poor payment record or to manufacture a credit report for a borrower without a verifiable credit history.
- » The preferred method is all nontraditional credit references be verified by a credit bureau and reported back to REMN WS as a nontraditional mortgage credit report in the same manner as traditional credit references and uploaded into GUS. Supplemental credit reports cannot be uploaded into GUS.
- » If a NTMCR is impractical, or such a service is unavailable, REMN may choose to obtain independent verification of trade references. Two (2) trade references are required when at least one of the trade references includes verification of rental housing payments or mortgage loan payments. If unavailable, at least three (3) trade references must be used to determine if a borrower has a sufficient credit history. Traditional tradelines, with a twelve (12) month payment history listed on the credit report, can be combined with eligible non-traditional tradelines to obtain the required number of tradelines.
- » Acceptable forms of documentation for a NTMCR include;
 - Canceled checks,
 - Third-party verifications; or,
 - Non-traditional credit report for the following non-traditional credit sources that include the creditor's name, date the account was opened, account balance, monthly payment due and payment history reported in 0x30, 0x60, 0x90 format. Subjective statements such as "satisfactory" or "acceptable" are not an acceptable format for repayment history confirmation. RD will accept reports by providers who develop bill payment histories.
- » An eligible non-traditional tradeline must have a 12-month history and cannot have been closed more than 6 months prior to loan application. Examples of acceptable non-traditional credit sources include but are not limited to:
 - Rent payments;
 - Utility payment records (if utilities were not included in any rent payments) such as gas, electricity, water, land-line home telephone service or cable TV;
 - Insurance payments (excluding those premiums paid through payroll deductions – for example, employee group health plans) such as medical (other than those provided as an employee benefit through salary), automobile, life and household, or renter's insurance. Insurance premiums paid other than monthly, such as quarterly or annually, will require documentation that meet a full 12mos payment history;
 - Payments to child-care providers – made to a business providing such a service;
 - School tuition;
 - Payments to local stores (department, furniture, appliance and specialty stores);
 - Payments for the uninsured portions of any medical bills;
 - Internet/cell phone services;
 - Automobile leases;
 - A personal loan from an individual (other than a family member) with repayment terms in writing and supported by cancelled checks or money order receipts to document repayment;
 - Monthly subscription services, gym memberships, etc., when they can be adequately verified in accordance with this section;
 - A documented 12-month history of saving by regular deposits (at least quarterly/non-payroll deducted/no NSF checks reflected), resulting in a reserve account equal to three months of proposed mortgage payments (PITI) as a cash reserve post-closing; or
 - Any other reference which gives insight into the borrower's willingness to make periodic payments on a regular basis for credit obligations.

CREDIT & UNDERWRITING
Credit Scores	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> » A credit score is a numeric representation of financial behavior, based on information found in a credit report. Credit scores are primarily based on five factors: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> – Payment history – Amounts owed – Length of credit history – New Credit, and, – Types of credit used. » A lower score represents a higher credit risk, while a higher score indicates a lower credit risk. » Credit scores are an effective tool in evaluating a borrower’s credit reputation. As a quantitative measurement of risk, credit scores enable an underwriter to process mortgage applications more accurately and quickly, and with a greater degree of confidence. The use of credit scores speeds up the approval process for a borrower who represents a low credit risk and allows the underwriter more time to analyze the creditworthiness of a higher-risk borrower. These scores objectively evaluate all the information in the borrower’s repository credit file at the time the credit score was created. A strong correlation between mortgage performance and credit scores has been identified. The use of credit scores in underwriting can reduce the risk of originating mortgages with unacceptable credit risk. » Accompanying reason codes with reported credit scores indicate why a credit score is not higher and can assist REMN WS in identifying credit factors that need to be addressed in determining the applicant has an acceptable credit reputation. » For manually underwritten loans or loans underwritten with the assistance of the Agency’s automated underwriting tool, GUS, REMN WS must satisfactorily establish the applicant’s willingness and ability to repay and manage obligations in accordance with 7 CFR 3555. » Refer to REMN Wholesale Credit Score Overlay Matrix

Underwriting with Credit Scores

- » When manually underwriting with credit scores, REM N WS must not use offsets for weaknesses in the borrower's credit reputation as they have already been considered in creating the credit score. Such offset factors include:
 - The age of derogatory information;
 - The number or types of accounts paid as agreed versus delinquent accounts;
 - Recent pay-down or pay-off of account balances by the borrower; and
 - Any combination of the above factors.
- » Determining the credit score for manual underwriting:
 - If the borrower's credit report has three (3) scores, the middle score should be used as the representative score.
 - If the borrower has two (2) scores, the lower of the two should be used as the representative score.
 - If the borrower has a repeating score, that score will be utilized.
 - If the borrower has one (1) score, a NTMCR must be developed for manually underwritten loans. Each borrower must be evaluated separately.
- » REM N WS's underwriting decision to approve a mortgage must be based on an overall evaluation of the risks documented in the mortgage file. Underwriters must consider the entire credit profile of each borrower and not approve a loan based upon a single component. REM N WS may consider the strength of some components against the weakness of one component to arrive at a conclusion. REM N WS must document the evaluation in REM N WS's permanent mortgage file. Whenever there is evidence of layered risk, more conservative underwriting standards must be utilized.
- » A score factor accompanies each borrower's credit score. The codes are useful in understanding which factors are most responsible for arriving at the borrower's credit score. In cases where a borrower is determined to be too great a risk for approval at the present time, REM N WS can use the score factor to assist the borrower with the appropriate path to follow to achieve homeownership in the future.

Acceptable Credit Score for Manually Underwritten Loans	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> » REMN WS must perform a detailed review of all aspects of the borrower’s credit history. REMN WS is required to obtain documentation to support an approval of the loan request. Documentation will be retained in REMN WS’s permanent loan file. » REMN WS’s underwriting decision to approve a mortgage must be based on an overall evaluation of the risks documented in the mortgage file. Acceptable Credit Scores for Automated Underwriting (GUS)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> » GUS credit scores are subject to validation to ensure a usable credit score is utilized for underwriting. Credit Exceptions

- » Credit history problems do not always reflect an unwillingness to meet financial obligations. If REMN WS believes that the borrower is creditworthy, REMN WS should document on the underwriter's analysis the reasons that an exception is justified. Exceptions should be made only in the following types of situations.
 - Temporary situation. The circumstances that caused the credit problems were temporary in nature, beyond the borrower's control, and the circumstances have been removed and resolved for the 12 months prior to application. Examples include a temporary loss of job, delay or reduction in benefits, illness, or dispute over payment for defective goods or services.
 - Reduced housing expenses. The loan will significantly reduce the borrower's housing expenses, which will result in improved debt repayment ability. A significant reduction in housing expenses would be 50 percent or more.
- » It remains REMN WS's responsibility to underwrite the mortgage application request. The individual loan file should contain clear evidence that REMN WS evaluated the credit information for each borrower and arrived at a conclusion that the borrower's credit history (even if brief or non-traditional) demonstrates an ability to handle financial obligations successfully. No Agency-granted waiver or concurrence is required for credit exceptions. Borrowers must provide supporting documentation that meets these requirements to ensure REMN WS's permanent loan file is well documented and supported. REMN WS must retain the underwriter's documentation as part of the case file that supports the decision to waive derogatory credit. Documentation will also be noted on the underwriting transmittal summary to include the supporting documentation provided by the borrower(s) to explain the reason(s) for derogatory information (e.g. undisclosed debts, judgments, bankruptcies, etc.) for all loans that do not qualify for streamlined abbreviated documentation. REMN WS must determine if the explanation and supportive documentation makes sense and whether it is consistent with other information in the credit report. The borrower(s) documentation should confirm the nature of the event that led to the derogatory credit deficiencies and illustrate that they had no reasonable options other than to default on their financial obligations. The event, the severity of the resulting hardship, and the extent of the borrower(s) efforts to resolve the situation should be taken into consideration when making an underwriting decision. Documentation provided by the borrower(s) may open new questions. REMN WS's underwriter must use careful underwriting judgment in evaluating loan requests involving derogatory credit.
- » REMN WS is not authorized to make an exception in the case of a borrower with a delinquency on a Federal debt, or with an outstanding judgment obtained by the United States in a Federal court, other than the United States Tax Court. Evidence of payment arrangements is acceptable for IRS Federal tax judgments. The approved lender's underwriter must determine if the elapsed portion of the repayment period is of appropriate duration. A borrower(s) who has been delinquent during the repayment period is ineligible for a guaranteed loan.

Credit Underwriting for Manual Underwrite	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> » Credit score over 680: Perform a basic level of underwriting to confirm the borrower has an acceptable credit reputation. Perform additional analysis if the borrower’s credit history has indicators of unacceptable credit. » Credit score 679 to 640: Perform a comprehensive level of underwriting. Underwrite all aspects of the borrower’s credit history to establish the borrower has an acceptable credit reputation. Credit scores in this range indicate the borrower’s reputation is uncertain and will require a thorough analysis by the underwriter of the credit to draw a logical conclusion about the borrower’s commitment to making payments on the new mortgage obligation. The borrower’s credit history should demonstrate his or her past willingness and ability to meet credit obligations. » Credit score less than 640: Not eligible » Little or no credit history: The lack of credit history on the credit report may be mitigated if the borrower can document a willingness to pay recurring debts through other acceptable means such as third-party verifications or cancelled checks. Due to impartiality issues, third party verifications from relatives of household members are not permissible. Lenders can develop a Non-Traditional Credit Report for borrowers who do not have a credit score. » REMN WS must obtain and document an eligible CAIVRS response and include this evidence in a complete loan submission to USDA. » A borrower with an outstanding judgment obtained by the United States in a Federal court, other than the United States Tax Court, is not eligible for a guarantee unless otherwise stated.
Rental History	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> » Some first-time homebuyers do not have a verifiable housing or rent payment history. In such cases, a rent history is not required. If the borrower’s and co-borrower’s credit score is under 680 and the borrower(s)/co-borrower(s) has a rent payment history, REMN WS should obtain a rent payment reference either as part of credit report, or directly from the landlord, or through cancelled checks covering the most recent 12 months prior to the loan application. When a private individual is the borrower’s present landlord, 12 months’ worth of cancelled checks indicating a satisfactory rent payment history is preferred. Written verifications by independent management companies and private landowners may be accepted in lieu of canceled checks or money order receipts. If the borrower does not have a full 12-month history, verify any previous payment made in the last 12 months. Written verification must include creditor name, date of the rental agreement or when the contract began and the monthly payment due. Payment history must be reported in 0x30, 0x60, 0x90 day format. Statements such as “satisfactory” or “acceptable” are not valid. » It remains REMN WS’s responsibility to confirm the borrower’s history of payment towards housing expense is acceptable. One rent or mortgage payment paid 30 or more days late within the last 12 months is an indicator of unacceptable credit unless the new mortgage loan request will reduce shelter costs significantly and contribute to improved repayment ability. REMN WS may consider extenuating circumstances surrounding late rent payments. » REMN WS should carefully underwrite loan borrowers who live rent free or do not have a recent 12-month history of paying rent. » Borrowers with validated credit scores of 680 and above are not subject to verification of rent or housing history. » Loans underwritten with GUS that receive an “Accept” underwriting recommendation are not subject to verification of rent or housing history. If the rent payment is entered under current housing expense on the Combined Monthly Housing Expense section of the Income and Expenses page of GUS, the loan file is not subject to rental verification if an “Accept underwriting recommendation is received. If a loan is manually downgraded to a Refer and requires a manual underwrite; the borrower plays rent; and the credit score is below 680, rental verification will be required.

Debt Ratio Waiver Request and Agency Approval

Debt ratio waivers must be requested and documented by REMN WS. REMN WS requests Agency concurrence with the debt ratio waiver by submitting a signed underwriting analysis that cites one or more of the above acceptable compensating factors. REMN WS may utilize Fannie Mae 1008 / Freddie Mac 1077, "Uniform Underwriting and Transmittal Summary," or similar form. Evidence of the compensating factor, such as a VOR, VOD, and/or VOE, must be submitted to the Agency for review.

Manually underwritten loans – refinance transactions

GUS underwritten loans receiving an "Accept"

The debt ratio waiver requirements do not apply to GUS files that receive an "Accept" underwriting recommendation or an "Accept" underwriting recommendation that requires a "Full Documentation" loan submission as part of a quality control message on the GUS Underwriting and Findings Report.

GUS underwritten loans receiving a "Refer, Refer with Caution, and manually underwritten loans without GUS"

Compensating Factors for Refinance Transactions	» For manually underwritten refinance loans, REMN WS must thoroughly document the compensating factors that justify an exception. Higher repayment ratio exceptions are feasible when a borrower demonstrates compensating factors indicating the capacity, willingness and ability to pay mortgage payments in a timely manner. The presence of compensating factors does not strengthen a ratio exception when multiple layers of risk, such as marginal credit history, are present in an application. The following are examples of compensating factors: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> – Credit score of 680 or higher. Credit scores of 680 and higher can be documented as a standalone compensating factor for a debt ratio waiver request, if no additional risk layers are present (e.g., adverse credit, or payment shock, etc.). – The borrower(s) has successfully demonstrated the ability to pay housing expenses equal to or greater than the proposed monthly housing expense for the new mortgage over the past 12 months. – The borrower(s) has demonstrated a conservative attitude toward the use of credit. – The borrower(s) has demonstrated an ability to accumulate savings comparable to the difference between current housing costs and projected costs. – Cash reserves post-closing. The use of retirement accounts as compensating factors and as cash reserves is limited to 60% of the vested amount of the retirement asset to offset potential withdrawals by the borrower(s). Retirement accounts that restrict withdrawals to circumstances involving the borrower’s employment separation, retirement or death should not be considered as a compensating factor or as cash reserves. – Continuous employment with the current primary employer. » The Agency will consider all requests for exception and weigh the proposal based on any additional layers of risk. Written approval by the Agency is represented if a Conditional Commitment for Loan Note Guarantee is issued by Rural Development in response to REMN WS’s request. Collections

- » Collection accounts are factored into the credit score. Collection accounts will be considered in the analysis of credit and capacity.
- » Paying an outstanding collection account is not justification, in itself, that would establish a borrower's willingness to meet obligations in an acceptable manner. Payment of the collection account may cause the depletion of cash resources that may otherwise be available as reserves or for closing costs. REMN WS is responsible for determining which collection accounts, if any, should be paid in full by the borrower prior to or at loan closing. The repayment in full of unpaid collections is not a condition of mortgage approval. Whether a collection account represents a greater risk is entirely REMN WS's decision, regardless of the credit score. This decision will be based upon several factors including the credit profile of the borrower(s), the amount of meaningful financial reserves available, the unpaid balance of the collection accounts, and whether they pose a threat to the first mortgage lien and are likely to affect the borrower's equity or ability to repay the requested loan. Lenders must conclude the borrower did not disregard his or her financial obligations. Outside factors, such as disputes, illness, loss of job may have contributed. Lenders will evaluate all outstanding collection accounts. Lender underwriters should perform additional analysis when making credit determinations if they encounter collection accounts that have:
 - A record of irregular payments; or
 - No satisfactory arrangements for repayment; or
 - Payment in full within the last 6 months just prior to application, unless the borrower had been previously making regular payments.
- » For a manually underwritten loan, REMN WS must document mitigating circumstances in accordance with Credit Exceptions section, subject to the capacity analysis described below, for approving a loan request when collection accounts are present and remain unpaid. The preferred method to document a lender's decision to leave collections unpaid is the underwriting analysis. For each outstanding collection account, the borrower must provide a letter of explanation together with documentation supporting the borrower's justification. The supporting documentation and explanation must be consistent with other credit information in the file.
- » For loans underwritten with GUS when an "Accept" recommendation is received, REMN WS remains responsible for considering the existence of the unpaid collection accounts in the final credit analysis and loan-making decision, subject to the capacity analysis described. A letter of explanation or documentation supporting the presence of unpaid collections is not required when the underwriting recommendation is an "Accept." REMN WS will document reasons for approving a loan request when collection accounts remain unpaid. The preferred method to record REMN WSs analysis/reasons for approving the loan is to document their justification on the credit liability line under "notes" on the "Assets and Liabilities" page beside each individual collection.
- » Capacity Analysis when collections are reported – all underwriting types: Unpaid open collections could affect the future ability of a borrower to repay a mortgage when creditors pursue collection. Ensure all collections and charge-offs are listed on the loan application as a liability. Collections meeting the omission policy noted below can be omitted from the total debt-to-income (DTI) ratio. Additional documentation is not required to omit those collections meeting criteria below.
- » In an effort to minimize future risk of open collections left unpaid, REMN WS will consider the following during the capacity analysis of the loan request, regardless of the method utilized to underwrite:
 1. Determine if the total outstanding balance of all collections accounts of all borrowers is equal to or greater than $2,000. Unless excluded by state law, collection accounts of a non-purchasing spouse in a community property state are included in the cumulative balance of all collections.
 2. Remove all medical collections and all types of charge off accounts from the total balance. Medical collections and charge off accounts must be clearly identifiable on the credit report.
 3. If the remaining outstanding balance of collection accounts are equal to or greater than $2,000, any of the following actions will apply:
 - a. Payment in full of all collection accounts at or prior to closing.
 - b. Payment arrangements are made with each creditor for each collection account remaining outstanding. A letter from the creditor or evidence on the credit report is required to validate the payment arrangements. The agreed upon monthly payment for each outstanding collection account will be included in the borrower's debt-to-income ratio.

Bankruptcy / Consumer Credit Counseling Plans

Chapter 13

Chapter 13 Bankruptcy Plan in Progress:

- » A Chapter 13 bankruptcy plan in progress does not disqualify a borrower from obtaining a mortgage loan, provided the following criteria, applicable to all underwriting methods, can be met:
 - REMN WS documents 12 months of the debt restructuring plan has elapsed; and
 - The borrower’s payment performance has been satisfactory; and
 - All required payments were made on time; and
 - The borrower must receive written permission from the bankruptcy court/trustee to enter into a mortgage transaction.
- » Manual Underwriting: In addition to the aforementioned criteria, a credit exception by REMN WS will be required, in accordance with Section 10.8 of the Handbook. Include the payment in the debt ratios of the borrower(s).
- » Automated Underwriting – GUS “Accept”: When a plan is in progress and GUS Accept is received, credit exception is not required. Include the payment in the “Asset and Liabilities” application page of GUS.

Chapter 13 Bankruptcy Plan Completed:

- » Manual Underwriting: A completed Chapter 13 bankruptcy plan will not require a credit exception provided the borrowers have demonstrated a willingness to meet obligations when due for the full 12 months prior to the date of loan application.
- » Automated Underwriting – GUS “Accept”: The discharge date of the completed plan has been considered by the scorecard and is reflected in the overall credit score. No additional documentation is required.

Chapter 7

Manual Underwriting:

- » A Chapter 7 bankruptcy (liquidation) does not disqualify a borrower from obtaining a mortgage loan if at least three (3) years have elapsed since the date of the discharge of the bankruptcy. During this time, the borrower must have re-established good credit or chosen not to incur new credit obligations.
 - An elapsed period of less than 3 years may be acceptable for a loan guarantee if the borrower can show the bankruptcy was caused by extenuating circumstances beyond their control and has since exhibited a documented ability to manage their financial affairs in a responsible manner for a reasonable period of time following discharge. Eligible mitigating circumstances must meet the Credit Exceptions section of these guidelines. Supporting documentation must be submitted with the loan guarantee request. Generally, a borrower whose bankruptcy has been discharged less than one year should be ineligible to enable the borrower to re-establish their credit.
 - REMN WS must document the borrower’s current situation indicates the events that led to the bankruptcy are not likely to recur.
 - When a Chapter 7 bankruptcy absolved the mortgage debt for the borrower, any foreclosure or remaining foreclosure pending is an action against the property, not the borrower. The foreclosure action is not considered as an indicator of unacceptable credit in the borrower’s evaluation. A loan underwritten with the assistance of GUS will not be required to be manually down-graded when the bankruptcy discharge included the mortgage debt.
- » If a borrower has a real estate mortgage discharged in a Chapter 7 bankruptcy, however a foreclosure action is not concluded, the borrower may remain in ownership of the property. In this example, title must be transferred to REMN WS of the pending foreclosure in order to remove the borrower from ownership and responsibility of real estate taxes and homeownership dues of the property. If title is not transferred, the borrower will be subject to Chapter 8, Section 8.2A of this Handbook for retention of a dwelling.

Automated Underwriting – GUS “Accept”

- » If the underwriting recommendation from GUS is an “Accept”, no further documentation regarding the bankruptcy is required.

Consumer Credit Counseling Plans

- » A borrower who has experienced credit or financial management problems in the past may have elected to participate in consumer counseling sessions to learn how to correct or avoid such problems in the future. Participation in a consumer credit counseling program does not disqualify borrower from obtaining a mortgage loan, provided:
 - REMN WS documents that one (1) year of the pay-out period has elapsed under the plan; and

Minimum Length of Self-Employment	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> » Income from self-employment is considered stable and dependable if the borrower has been self-employed for two (2) or more years. If the underwriter is unable to support the income with the documentation required, the income should not be utilized for repayment income purposes. The income from borrowers self-employed for less than two (2) years cannot be counted as repayment income. » When additional income the borrower draws from the borrower’s corporation, partnership or S-corporation is utilized for repayment income, additional documentation is required to verify the borrower has a legal right to the additional income. REMN WS can obtain a corporate resolution or other comparable document that establishes that right. Also confirm the borrower’s percentage of ownership of the business entity from a review of business tax returns, letter from the accountant for the business or similar documents. The analysis must support that the business is clearly capable of providing the borrower with the additional income used to qualify. » A written analysis of income utilized to qualify the borrower must be retained in the REMN WS’s mortgage file. As part of the analysis, any increase or decrease in business income must be documented and justified to support a determination that the income used to qualify the borrower is stable and likely to continue for the next three years. It may be necessary to obtain additional years’ tax returns when the borrower’s self-employment income fluctuates to determine the stability of income. If the borrower’s income is not utilized to qualify the borrower for repayment, the individual federal tax return is required to determine if there is a business loss that may have an impact on the stable monthly income utilized for qualifying. If a business loss is reported, additional documentation may be necessary to evaluate the impact of a business loss on the income used for qualifying the borrower for repayment. For the purposes of computing annual income to qualify the household, business losses will be treated as zero (0) in the calculation. Business losses when calculating repayment income will be deducted from repayment income prior to calculating debt ratios. It is not considered as recurring debt.
Self-Employed Income Documentation	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> » The following documentation for self-employed individuals is required to establish capacity to repay the loan: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> – Signed and dated Federal individual tax returns, plus all applicable schedules for the most recent two (2) years. – Signed copies of Federal business income tax returns for the last two (2) years, with all applicable schedules, if the business is a corporation, an “S” corporation, or a limited liability corporation. – A year to date profit-and-loss (P&L) statement and balance sheet (not required to be audited), – Confirmation the business is operational must be obtained within thirty (30) days of the loan closing. Documentation may include evidence of a website, additional internet documentation, licensing bureau certification, or equivalent. Adverse changes to the business may render the borrower ineligible.
Calculation of Self-Employment Income	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> » REMN WS’s calculation of a self-employed borrower’s average monthly income must be based on a review of the borrower’s complete individual federal tax returns (Form 1040) including W-2’s and K-1’s (if applicable). A written analysis of the borrower’s self-employed income on Fannie Mae Form 1084, “Cash Flow Analysis,” and Fannie Mae Form 1088, “Comparative Income Analysis,” (or a comparable form) is encouraged to document a trend analysis of the borrower’s business. If the borrower is not subject to quarterly tax filings or does not file quarterly returns Form IRS 1040 ES, “Estimated Tax Payment Voucher,” the income shown on the P&L may be included in the analysis provided the income stream based on the P&L is consistent with the previous years’ earnings. If the P&L statements submitted for the current year show an income stream considerably greater than what is supported by the previous years’ tax returns, the analysis of income must be predicated solely on the income verified through the tax returns. » REMN WS must carefully analyze the individual business’s financial strength, the source of its income, and the general economic outlook for similar businesses in that area to determine if the business can be expected to continue to generate sufficient income for the borrower’s needs. Annual earnings that are stable or increasing are acceptable. Conversely, income for a borrower whose business shows a significant decline in income over the period analyzed may not be considered adequate, dependable, and stable. » There are five (5) basic types of business structures (sole proprietorship, corporations, “S” corporations, partnerships, and limited liability corporations), each of which will require slightly different forms of analysis.
Adjusted Income	The household’s annual income (as described above) minus eligible deductions equals the adjusted income. The adjusted income determines program eligibility. Eligible deductions include: Dependent Deduction <ul style="list-style-type: none"> » A deduction from annual income of $480 is made for each household member who qualifies as a dependent and will make the home their principal residence. Dependents are members of the family who are not the head of the household or spouse, and who are ages 17 or younger, a person with a disability, children of divorced parents even if the child lives with the family all or part of the time, or a full-time student. » If it is unclear or if parents share custody of children, a determination as a qualifying dependent deduction for a child who lives in the home part of the time can be made by REMN WS through guidance provided in Internal Revenue Service (IRS) Publication No. 501. IRS considers the custodial parent the parent authorized to claim the dependent on a Federal Income tax return. A divorce decree, custody agreement and/or Federal income tax returns are documentation evidence the borrower is authorized to claim the dependent. » Documentation from the school indicating that the individual is enrolled on a full-time basis is required for students who are 18 years of age or older. A foster child, an unborn child, a child who has not yet joined the family or a live-in aide may never be counted as a dependent. Child Care Expenses <ul style="list-style-type: none"> » Reasonable unreimbursed child care expenses for the care of children age 12 and under are deducted from annual income if the care enables a family member to work, actively seek employment, or go to school and if no other adult household member is available to care for the children. If the child care enables a household member to work, the expenses deducted cannot exceed the income earned by that household member. If the child care provider is a household member, the cost of the children’s care cannot be deducted. » To qualify for the deduction, the borrower must: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> – Identify the children who are receiving child care and the family member who can work, seek employment or go to school (academic or vocational) as a result of the care; – Demonstrate that there is no adult household member available to care for the children; – Demonstrate that the child care hours parallel the hours the family member works or goes to school; – Identify the child care provider, the hours of child care provided, and the costs; and – If the child care provided enables a family member to go to school, identify the educational institution. The family member need not be a full-time student, but the child care hours must parallel the hours the family member goes to school. » Child support is a court ordered debt that must be considered as a monthly liability for debt ratio calculations but does not qualify as a child care expense. Annual child care expenses are not considered a liability in the repayment ratio calculation.

Elderly Household Deduction

- » A single $400 deduction is subtracted from annual income for any elderly household. To be considered an elderly household, the head of household, spouse or sole member of a family, who is party to the note, must be 62 years of age or older, or a person with a disability.

Deduction for the Care of Household Members with Disabilities

- » Reasonable expenses for the care of a person with disabilities in excess of 3% of annual income may be deducted from annual income if the expenses:
 - Enable the individual with disabilities or another family member to work, are not reimbursed from insurance or any other source; and, do not exceed the amount of earned income included in annual income by the person who is able to work as a result of the care provided.
- » To qualify for this deduction, borrowers must identify the person with a disability. REMN WS must obtain verification of the individual's disability from the state review board in the state where the borrower resides, the Social Security administration, or a physician or other medical professional. Form RD 1944-4, or similar form or documentation acceptable to the industry may be used to request this information.
- » Typical disability expenses include attendant care to assist an individual with disabilities with activities of daily living related to permitting the individual or another family member to work, or special apparatus, such as wheelchairs, ramps, adaptations to vehicles or work place equipment, if directly related to permitting the person with disabilities or another family member to work.

Deduction for Medical Expenses (for Elderly Families Only)

- » Medical expenses may be deducted from annual income for elderly households if the expenses will not be reimbursed by insurance or another source, and when combined with any disability assistance expenses, are in excess of three percent of annual income.
- » Typical medical expenses include;
 - Services of physicians or other health care providers,
 - Services in hospitals or other health care facilities,
 - Medical insurance premiums or Medicare premiums,
 - Prescription and non-prescription medicine, Dental expenses,
 - Eyeglasses and eye examinations,
 - Medical or health products or apparatus (e.g. hearing aids, wheel chairs, etc.),
 - Live-in or periodic medical care (e.g. visiting nurses or care attendants); and,
 - Periodic payments on accumulated medical bills.
- » If the elderly household qualifies for the medical expense deduction, expenses of the entire family are considered. For example, if a household included the head (grandmother, age 64), her son (age 37), and her granddaughter (age 6), the medical expenses of all three family members would be considered.
- » One of the most challenging aspects of determining allowable medical expenses is estimating a household's medical expenses for the coming year. While some anticipated expenses can be documented easily, for example, Medicare or other health insurance premiums and ongoing prescriptions, others need to be estimated. REMN WS should use historical information about medical bills to estimate future expenses. However, the estimates should be realistic. For example, if the household has a significant medical bill, REMN WS would count only that portion of the bill that is likely to be paid during the coming year. REMN WS must document all information used in making the calculation.

Repayment Income	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> » Repayment income is the amount of the household’s income that is available to repay the mortgage loan debt. To compute repayment income, REMN WS should count only the income of the persons who will be parties to the note. » In order for the Agency to confirm that the household is eligible for assistance under the SFHGLP, REMN WS’s file must thoroughly document all relevant information used to make the determination. » Worksheet for Documenting Eligible Household and Repayment Income provides for a written analysis of elements utilized in determining household eligibility. The calculation of annual and adjusted household income must be retained as part of REMN WS’s permanent loan file. » Lenders use repayment income to determine whether applicant(s) have sufficient income to repay the mortgage in addition to other recurring debts. Repayment income often differs from the calculation of annual income and adjusted annual income used to determine if the household is eligible for the SFHGLP. » To compute repayment income, REMN WS must count only the stable and dependable income of persons who will be parties to the Note. Co-signers are not permitted in a SAFHGLP transaction and are not an acceptable source when considering repayment income. » The following sources are never counted when considering repayment income: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> – Income sources from household members who are not party to the promissory note. – Student financial aid received for tuition, fees, books, equipment, materials and transportation. – Amounts received that are specifically for, or in reimbursement of the cost of medical expenses for any family member. – Temporary, nonrecurring, or sporadic income (including gifts) – Lump sum additions to family assets, such as inheritances, capital gains, insurance payments and personal or property settlements. – Payments for the care of foster children or adults – Supplemental Nutritional Assistance Program (formerly the Food Stamp Program).
Repayment Income Rental	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> » Repayment Income for rents received less than 24 months – Borrowers retaining their existing dwelling must qualify for all mortgage liability payments. Newly signed leases have no historical basis to conclude that the income is likely to continue and cannot be used for repayment ratio calculation. Rents received less than 24 months do not represent a stable continued source of income for repayment income due to lack of history and cannot be used when qualifying the loan request. The exclusion of rental income will ensure the borrower has sufficient monthly income to meet all mortgage and liability payments. Lenders who utilize GUS will not populate data fields on the “REO Property Information” page with any information regarding rental income received for less than 24 months in the “Gross Rental Income,” “Mortgage Payments,” or “Insurance, Maintenance and Taxes” data fields. However, the corresponding mortgage liability associated with the retained dwelling must be included in the long-term debt liability. » Repayment Income for rents received 24 months or greater – When borrowers can demonstrate rental income is stable and dependable, as evidenced and documented with the most recent two years tax returns and a copy of the current written lease executed by the homeowner and the lessee, the net rental income can be considered for repayment ratios. IRS Form 1040 Schedule E is required to verify all rental income. Depreciation or depletion shown on Schedule E may be added back to the net income or loss for repayment income. Positive rental income is considered gross income for repayment income while negative income must be treated as a recurring liability. » Repayment Ratios – If the net rental amount is negative, the amount of debt will be considered as a recurring liability for repayment ratios. This applies to manual and automated underwritten loan files. » Annual Income Calculation – Any positive net rental income will be included in the calculation of annual income to determine eligibility of the household for the SFHGLP. Rental income must be considered in the annual income analysis regardless of its duration. Rental income, for annual income purposes, is considered the total rental real estate income amount reported on the most recent IRS Form 1040 Schedule E for the previous 12 months. In the absence of a Schedule E; canceled checks, money order receipts, bank statements or other documentation may be used to support the amount of rents received for annual income purposes. INCOME & EMPLOYMENT

Stable and Dependable Income

- » The anticipated amount of income, and likelihood of its continuance, must be established to determine the borrower's capacity to repay the loan. The determination of stable and dependable income remains REMN WS's responsibility. GUS does not evaluate the stability and dependability of repayment income in the overall risk evaluation. REMN WS must determine the history and stability of earnings prior to entering repayment income into GUS. Repayment income often differs from the annual income and adjusted income calculations that determine program eligibility.
- » Income from any source that cannot be verified, is not stable, or will not continue, must not be used in calculating the borrower's repayment income. Stable monthly income is the borrower's verified gross monthly income from all acceptable and verifiable sources that can reasonably be expected to continue for at least the next three (3) years. For each income source used to qualify the borrower(s), REMN WS must determine both the source and the amount of the income are stable. The determination of stable and dependable income remains REMN WS's responsibility.
- » There is no minimum length of time and borrower must have held a position to consider employment income as dependable. Many low and moderate-income borrowers change jobs frequently due to the nature of the employment available. Borrowers in this situation should not be penalized for frequent changes in jobs within the same line of work if, despite the changes, income continuity has been maintained and the income amount has remained at a consistent level. However, REMN WS must verify the borrower's employment for the most recent two (2) full years and verify that the borrower's income has been stable. If a borrower indicates he or she was in school or in the military during any of this time, the borrower must provide evidence supporting this such as college transcripts or discharge papers. If the borrower has recently re-entered the workforce after an absence to care for a family member or minor child, extended medical illness, or other circumstance reasonable to REMN WS, the borrower must provide evidence. The borrower should not have any gaps in employment of more than a month within the two (2) year period prior to making the loan application. It remains REMN WS's responsibility to analyze the gaps in employment as it relates to the probability of continued income. REMN WS may make allowances for seasonal employment, as is typical in the building or agriculture trades. In most instances, a two (2) year history of receiving income is required in order for the income to be considered stable and used for qualifying. REMN WS should focus on the borrower's occupation, tenure, past employment and probability of consistent receipt.
- » Borrowers that have not been employed for 12 months with their current employer or have experienced a significant earnings increase are considered high risk. REMN WS must ensure the borrower will have the required stable and dependable income to carry the mortgage debt. Caution must be utilized when the borrower's employment includes a probationary period. REMN WS may consider reasonable allowances for borrowers with less than 12 months job time with their current employer under the following circumstances: (1) the borrower has recently changed jobs but remains in the same line of work, (2) the borrower frequently changes jobs but demonstrates income continuity, (3) the borrower is a recent graduate, as evidenced by college transcripts, or a recent member of the military, as evidenced by discharge papers, entering the civilian workforce, (4) the borrower has recently re-entered the workforce after an absence to care for a family member or minor child, extended medical illness, or other circumstance reasonable to REMN WS; and (5) an borrower will begin a new job with a firm offer letter from the employer indicating a start date within 60 days of loan closing (REMN WS must verify the borrower will have sufficient income, or cash reserves, to support mortgage payments and other obligations during the time between loan closing and the start of employment), this type of allowance is commonly represented by an borrower entering a teaching position with a contract from the school district.
- » Many income sources such as commission, bonus, overtime, tips and income from a second job require two (2) years of receipt of income and two (2) years of income documentation. Notwithstanding the requirements below, in some extraordinary instances less than two (2) years of income receipt for income sources such as commission, bonus, overtime, tips and income from a second job may be acceptable with a documented thorough analysis of the borrower's income and a determination that the income is stable and likely to continue for the next three years. If less than two (2) years documentation is utilized for qualifying the borrower, REMN WS must document in our underwriting analysis the basis for determining the income utilized when qualifying the loan as stable and dependable.

INCOME & EMPLOYMENT
	» Other non-employed or not self-employment income sources such as child support, alimony, public assistance payments, social security (including social security received by adults on behalf of minors or by minors intended for their own support – as long as the minor is a member of the household), retirement, etc. can be considered stable to the extent that they are likely to be consistently made by the payor and can reasonably be expected to continue for at least the next three years. Many factors should contribute the determination and likelihood of consistent payments from other income sources such as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> – Are payments received pursuant to a written agreement, court decree or law? – How long have payments been received? – Are payments regular? – What procedures are available to compel payment of other income? – Have full or partial payments been made? – What are the ages of each child for which child support payments are made (if applicable)? – What is the eligibility criteria governing continued receipt of income, such as age or dependents or accumulation of assets? » Generally, income from self-employment is considered stable and dependable if the borrower has been self-employed for two (2) or more years, supported by documented income tax returns. Projected or hypothetical income from any source is typically not acceptable for repayment purposes. » Any loss incurred by a self-employed business (full-time or part-time) that is closed may be removed from consideration when the borrower provides a letter of explanation and documentation to the lender which details <ul style="list-style-type: none"> – When the business was closed – Why the business was closed – How the business was closed – Evidence to support the closure of the business » REMN WS’s permanent case file must retain supporting documentation confirming the stable and dependable income utilized to qualify the loan. The following will assist REMN WS to evaluate the stability and continuance of income. This list does not encompass all eligible income types REMN WS may consider.
Salaries, Wages and Other Forms of Repayment Income	» The income of each party to the note must be analyzed to determine whether it can reasonably be expected to continue. If the borrower intends to retire within the next 12 months, the repayment income will be the amount of retirement benefits, social security payments, and other retirement income.
Employed Income	» Stable income may be income from primary, secondary employment, including base earnings plus consistent and documented secondary income such as bonuses, commissions, overtime, additional part-time employment or seasonal employment. All income sources must be documented to determine that the borrower’s income is stable and likely to continue at the level used to qualify the borrower for the mortgage loan request.
Newly Employed	» A borrower who has less than a two (2) year employment and income history can be considered when REMN WS obtains supportive documentation the borrower was either attending school or training program immediately prior to their current employment history. For those borrowers about to start a new job, if the borrower has a firm offer letter from the new employer indicating the job that will begin within 60 days of loan closing.
Re-Entering the Work Force	» Borrowers who re-enter the workforce after an absence to care for a family member or minor child, extended medical illness, or other circumstances reasonable to REMN WS and have less than a two (2) year employment and income history, this type of income source may be considered as repayment income if the borrower has been at the current employer for a minimum of six (6) months and there is evidence of a previous employment history.

Significant Increases or Decreases in Income Level	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> » When a borrower has experienced a significant decrease in income, the previous higher income level cannot be averaged for repayment purposes unless there is documentation of a one-time occurrence (e.g. injury) that prevented the borrower from working or earning full income for a period of time and proof that the borrower is back to the income amount that they previously earned. Focus on the most recent earnings and income that it is likely to be received at the level used for qualifying. A documented decrease in earnings is defined as a 20% or greater variance in income from the previous twelve (12) months. » When a borrower has experienced a significant increase in income and REMN WS proposes to qualify the borrower at the higher amount, sufficient documentation to confirm the increased income is stable and likely to continue at the level used for qualifying must be part of REMN WS’s written analysis of income. A sharp increase in earnings is defined as a 20% or greater variance in income from the previous twelve (12) months. REMN WS must determine if an increase is supported and logical.
Calculation of Monthly Repayment Income	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> » The following table will assist REMN WS in calculating base earnings from primary employment paid on an hourly, weekly, every two weeks, semi-monthly or monthly basis to qualify the borrower. The guide will not be applicable in all situations. REMN WS remains responsible for determining the amount of income used to qualify the borrower is stable. A written analysis of the income used to qualify the borrower must be retained in the mortgage loan file. Documentation must support REMN WS’s income calculation. <table border="1" style="width: 100%; border-collapse: collapse;"> <thead> <tr> <th colspan="2" style="background-color: #e1f5fe;">Calculation of Monthly Repayment Income – Base Earnings</th> </tr> <tr> <th style="background-color: #e1f5fe;">Frequency</th> <th style="background-color: #e1f5fe;">Calculation of Repayment Income</th> </tr> </thead> <tbody> <tr> <td>Hourly</td> <td>Multiply the hourly pay rate by the average number of hours worked per week; multiply by 52 weeks; divide by 12 months.</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Weekly</td> <td>Multiply the weekly income by 52 weeks; divide by 12 months.</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Every 2 Weeks</td> <td>Multiply the 2 weeks income by 26 pay periods; divide by 12 months.</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Twice per month</td> <td>Multiply the semi-monthly income by 24 pay periods; divide by 12 months</td> </tr> <tr> <td>Monthly</td> <td>Use the monthly income from the paystub. Additional Income	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> » Procedures for treating other acceptable income sources in addition to primary employment are described below. REMN WS must determine that the amount of additional income used to qualify the borrower is likely to continue at the level used for loan qualifying. The monthly income documented in the mortgage file must support REMN WS’s income calculation. A written analysis of the additional income used to qualify the borrower must be retained in REMN WS’s mortgage file.

REMN WHOLESALE USDA PRODUCT GUIDELINES

Overtime & Bonus Income	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> » Both overtime and bonus income may be used to qualify the borrower if the income source has a two (2) year consecutive history of paying overtime and bonuses and the income will likely continue for the next three (3) years. Income earned for less than one (1) year with the current employer should not be considered for repayment income without significant compensating factors (e.g. the borrower has recently changed from a salary to commission position with the same employer or remains in the same line of work with a verified history of receipt of these income types). » When REMN WS verifies this type of income, the employer must indicate that the overtime and bonus income is likely to continue. If either type of income shows a continual decline, REMN WS must provide a sound rationale for the amount included. If bonus income varies significantly from year to year, a period of more than two (2) years may be used in calculating the average income. Calculation of Overtime and Bonus Income: If the amount of the bonus and/or overtime is consistent in the most recent two (2) years, the amount utilized for repayment income will be the total of the most recent two (2) years divided by 24 months. Business expenses will be deducted prior to the calculation. If the borrower has experienced a decrease in overtime or bonus income REMN WS must determine the amount of income, if any, which can be justified as stable and document their explanation for the decrease. The calculation of repayment income - when less than a 24-month average is utilized - will be based upon the time frame REMN WS can support with documentation the income is stable and likely to continue at the level used for qualifying (e.g. the previous 12 months represents the level and stability of income to be received in the future – REMN WS would divide income received for this period by 12).
Tax Exempt Income	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> » The standard debt-to-income ratios are based on an assumption the income is taxable. If a particular source of income is not subject to Federal taxes, for example, certain types of disability payments or military allowances, the amount of continued tax savings attributable to the nontaxable income source may be added to the borrower’s repayment income. Income that has been verified to be tax exempt may be “grossed up” by 25 percent, in other words, multiplied by 125 percent to “gross up” such income. No other adjustments for tax exempt income are authorized. Tax exempt income sources should not be grossed up when calculating annual income.
Commission Income	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> » Include amounts that will be received in the ensuing twelve (12) months. Exclusions may apply under 3555.152(b)(5). » Required History – One (1) year » Underwriters must analyze commission for the current pay period and YTD earnings. Significant variances (increase or decrease) of 20% or greater in income from the previous twelve (12) months must be analyzed and documented (example: variances due to seasonal/holiday/etc.) before considering the income stable and dependable. » Continuance: Income will be presumed to continue unless there is documented evidence the income will cease. » Documentation Source Options: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> – Paystub(s)/Earning statement(s) – W-2’s – Written VOE or electronic verifications Federal income tax returns or IRS tax transcripts with all schedules
Part-Time, Second Job, Seasonal & Unemployment	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> » Income from a second job or part-time job may be counted for repayment income if the borrower has worked this position uninterrupted for the past one (1) year and will continue to do so. Income will be presumed to continue unless there is documented evidence the income will cease. Second or part-time job income refers to jobs taken in addition to the normal, regular employment to supplement the borrower’s income. If a borrower’s regular employment is less than a typical 40-hour work week, the stability of that income should be evaluated as any other regular, ongoing primary employment. This would include as an example, a registered nurse that has been working 24 hours per week for the last year. » Seasonal employment (e.g., umpiring baseball games in summer or working at a department store during the Christmas shopping season) is considered uninterrupted and may be counted if the borrower has worked the same type of job for the past two (2) years. Income from a part-time position that has been received for less than two (2) years may be counted if REMN WS is able to determine through employer verification that the income’s continuance is likely at the level of receipt verified in the past. Income from part-time positions not meeting these requirements may be considered as a compensating factor.

REMN WHOLESALE USDA PRODUCT GUIDELINES

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> » The allowance of unemployment compensation associated with seasonal employment for qualification is a case-by-case issue and must be addressed with your Regional USDA office for consideration. If allowed by the regional office, the borrower must have a two (2) year history of receipt and the unemployment compensation is likely to continue for the next three (3) years. » To utilize income from secondary employment (second or additional job), seasonal income or unemployment (if allowed by the regional USDA office) to qualify the borrower, the income must be reported on the borrower's individual federal income tax return for: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Seasonal Employment and Unemployment: the most recent two (2) year period. ○ Secondary Employment: the most recent one (1) year period.
Military Income	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> » In addition to base pay, military personnel may be entitled to additional forms of pay. Income from variable housing allowances, clothing allowances, flight or hazard pay, rations, and proficiency pay is acceptable provided it is verified as continuous and regular and likely to continue for the next three (3) years. An additional consideration may be the tax-exempt nature of some of these payments. » If the borrower is a member of a reserve component of the United States Armed Forces, REMN WS may consider the reserve duty income for qualifying.
Retirement & Social Security Income	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> » Retirement and Social Security income requires verification from the source (former employer or Social Security Administration), such as a copy of the current award letter or Federal tax returns. If any benefits expire within the first three (3) years of the proposed loan, the income source may only be considered as a compensating factor in lieu of repayment income. The Social Security Administration benefit verification letter or equivalent document would specifically state that the benefits will expire; otherwise, REMN WS should treat Social Security benefits as likely to continue.
Interest & Dividend	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> » Interest and dividend income may be counted for repayment income provided that documentation (tax returns or account statements) supports a two (2) year history of receipt. This income must be averaged over the two (2) years. Any funds derived from these sources, and required for closing, must be subtracted before the projected interest or dividend income is calculated. Documentation of sufficient assets remaining after closing to support continuance of the dividends and interest income at the level used for qualification for the next three (3) years is required.
Individual Retirement Account (IRA) Distributions	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> » IRA Distribution amounts that will be received in the ensuing 12 months may be included. Lump Sum Withdrawals or Sporadic payments will be excluded. No history is required when used for repayment income, but the income must be received at the time of submissions to the USDA. REMN WS must document that the borrower is currently receiving the income and the amount of income received each month.
Alimony, Child Support or Maintenance Income	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> » Income in this category may be counted if such payments are likely to be consistently received for the first three years of the mortgage. The borrower must provide a copy of the divorce decree, legal separation agreement, or voluntary payment agreement, and evidence that payments have been received during the last twelve months. Payment periods of less than twelve months may be acceptable if REMN WS can document the payer's ability and willingness to make timely payments. Acceptable evidence of payments received includes the most recent 12 months of cancelled checks, or deposit slips, or Federal tax returns, and court records. » When REMN WS is considering if this type of income is stable, consider the extent that payment is likely to be consistently made by the payor and can reasonably be expected to continue for at least the next three (3) years based on documentation.
Guardian & Conservatorship Income	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> » Guardian & Conservatorship Income amounts that will be received in the ensuing 12 months may be included. No history is required when used for Repayment Income, but the income must be received at the time of submission to the USDA. REMN WS must document that the borrower is currently receiving the income and the amount of the income received each month.
Education	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> » The agency will allow time spent in school towards requirements for annual and repayment income including college, technical school, and career-based certificates in high school (e.g. health and public safety career tracks). A standard high school diploma without an accompanying certificate does not meet the time requirements.
Employment Differential Payments Housing Allowances	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> » If the employer subsidizes the mortgage payments through direct payments, this is a housing allowance. The amount of the payments should be considered gross income to calculate repayment ratios. It may not be used to directly offset the mortgage payment even if the employer pays the servicing lender directly. REMN WS must obtain documentation to demonstrate that the payments are pursuant to an established, ongoing and documented employer program to utilize this type of

VA Benefits	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> » Direct compensation from the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA), (e.g., regular payments for a service-related disability), can be counted if the VA verifies it. A VA education benefit, used to offset education expenses, is not an acceptable source of income. Any amount provided for living expenses may be counted as repayment income. Any student financial aid received for tuition, fees, books, equipment, materials, and transportation will not be considered in the repayment income calculation.
Government Assistance Programs	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> » Income received under a welfare program, worker’s compensation or similar government assistance programs can be used for repayment income. It must be documented by the paying agency; the income has been received for the most recent two (2) years and can be expected to continue for three (3) years. If this income is not expected to last three (3) years, it may be considered as a compensating factor. » Documentation from the applicable agency that indicates the amount, frequency and the length of time the benefit payments will be received is required.
Automobile Allowance & Expense Account Payments	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> » The borrower must have a two (2) year consecutive history of receiving an automobile allowance and the automobile allowance must be likely to continue for the next three (3) years in order to consider the income for repayment purposes. » The amount by which a borrower’s automobile allowance or expense account payments exceed actual expenditures may be considered as income. The borrower must provide IRS Form 2106, “Employee Business Expenses,” for the previous two (2) years to establish the amount of income that may be added to gross income, along with verification from the employer that these payments will continue. » The monthly debt amount must be treated as a recurring debt. If the borrower uses the standard per-mile rate in calculating automobile expenses, as opposed to the “actual cost” method, the portion the IRS considers depreciation may be added back to repayment income. Additionally, the borrower’s monthly car payment must be treated as a recurring debt and must not be offset by the car allowance.
Trust Income	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> » Income from trusts may be counted for repayment income if guaranteed, if constant payment will continue for at least the first three (3) years of the mortgage term, and if it is adequately documented. Documentation requirements include a copy of the Trust Agreement or other trustee’s statement confirming amount, frequency of distribution, and duration of payments.
Tip Income	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> » The borrower must have a two (2) year consecutive history of receiving income from tips in order to consider the income for qualifying. For tip income that fluctuates, REMN WS must evaluate the income trend and use the amount that is likely to continue for the next three (3) years.

REMN WHOLESALE USDA PRODUCT GUIDELINES

INCOME & EMPLOYMENT
Projected Income	» Projected or hypothetical income is not acceptable for repayment purposes. However, exceptions are permitted for income from cost-of-living adjustments, performance raises, bonuses, etc. which is both verified by the employer in writing and scheduled to begin within 60 days of loan closing. For those borrowers about to start a new job, if the borrower has a firm offer letter from the new employer indicating the job that will begin within 60 days of loan closing, the income is acceptable for qualifying, and repayment, purposes. REMN WS must also verify that the borrower will have sufficient income or cash reserves to support the mortgage payments and any other obligations during the interim between loan closing and the start of employment. This may be appropriate for situations such as a teacher whose contract begins with the new school year, or a physician beginning residency after the loan is scheduled to close. However, if the loan will close more than 60 days before the employment begins, the income cannot be counted for repayment purposes. REMN WS should utilize full documentation on this type of income. In the absence of a payroll statement to support income earned for new jobs, a copy of the contract with the employer that validates the amount of income to be earned should be obtained.
Section 8 Homeownership Vouchers	Section 8 Homeownership Vouchers may be used for qualifying borrowers. This income is not included in Annual Income. For repayment income purposes, the monthly subsidy from the vouchers may be treated in either of the ways described below: » Repayment Income: The subsidy may be treated as repayment income when calculating a homebuyer's qualifying ratios, and if the subsidy is paid directly to the borrower, it must be treated in this manner. Since the subsidy is non-taxable, it may be "grossed-up" by 25% and then added to the borrower's income from employment and/or other sources when calculating repayment income. This option of capturing the Section 8 Homeownership Voucher will be the method to be followed when REMN WS utilizes GUS for the underwriting recommendation. » Offset to PITI: REMN WS may treat the homeownership assistance payment as an "offset" to the monthly PITI (i.e. reduce the monthly PITI payment by the amount of homeownership assistance provided prior to dividing by monthly repayment income to determine the debt-to-income ratio). However, in order to use this procedure, the homeownership assistance funds must not pass through the hands of the homebuyer, i.e. the homeownership assistance payment must be paid directly to the servicing lender or placed into an account that only the servicing lender may access.
Unreimbursed Employee Expenses	» Unreimbursed employee expenses may be deducted from the Annual and Adjusted Income and are applicable to Repayment Income.
Mortgage Credit Certificate (MCC)	» Mortgage Credit Certificate Income should not be included in the Annual Income. However, it is applicable to Repayment Income. Self-Employed borrowers are not eligible for MCC.
Variable Income	» Variable Income amounts that will be received in the ensuing 12 months may be included in the Annual Income. The amount is applicable as Repayment Income with a one (1) year history in the same or similar line of work. » When applying as Repayment Income, underwriters must analyze variable income earnings for the current pay periods and year-to-date (YTD) earnings. Significant variances of 20 percent or greater in income from the previous 12 months must be analyzed and documented before considering the income stable and dependable.

Rental Income

- » Rental income received for a property owned and retained by the borrower may be acceptable in limited circumstances, subject to proper documentation. A separate schedule of real estate is not required provided that all properties are shown on the Uniform Residential Loan Application (URLA). The following is required to verify rental income:
 - » Long-term current leases. Net rental income, received for 24 months or more, may be considered stable and dependable income for repayment purposes. Evidence of long-term leases will be documented with the most recent two (2) years of tax returns (including Schedule E of IRS Form 1040) and a copy of the written lease agreement executed by the homeowner and lessee. Net rental income is considered the two (2) year average of total rental real estate income reported on IRS Form 1040 Scheduled E. A two (2) year average of depreciation and depletion may be added back to the net income or loss shown on Schedule E less any monetary obligations associated with the property not captured on Schedule E (i.e. monthly principal payment). Positive net rental income is considered as gross income for repayment purposes. Negative net rental income must be treated as a recurring liability and not as a deduction from repayment income. REMN WS must make certain the borrower still owns the property listed by comparing the Schedule E with the real estate owned section of the residential loan application.
- » Data entry in GUS for long-term current leases. Requests submitted utilizing GUS that include the retention of a rental property require specific fields to be completed to assure accurate data is submitted. Complete the following steps in GUS:
 - a. Complete the “Real Estate Owned” (REO) page in GUS to ensure rents are used to offset the existing mortgage obligation when applicable.
 - b. Unless manually overwritten, GUS auto-calculates net rental income by employing at 25% vacancy factor. GUS uses 75% of REMN WS entered amount for gross rental income and subtracts REMN WS entered amounts for mortgage payments, insurance, maintenance and taxes.
 - c. Lenders may override the auto-calculation on this page when the most recent two years of tax returns evidence a more precise amount of income receipt.
 - d. On the “Assets and Liabilities” page of GUS, lenders should omit the mortgage obligation for the rental property shown on this page to avoid double counting the debt since it is also reported on the REO page.
- » Non-GUS manually submitted files for long-term current leases. REMN WS will utilize the two (2) year average as reported on the Schedule E to determine repayment income. Depreciation and depletion can be added back into the net rental income. Mortgage payments (if applicable), insurance maintenance and tax obligations will be subtracted from the calculation.
 - » Newly signed leases. A newly signed lease has no historical basis to conclude that the income is likely to continue. Rental income that has been received for less than 24 months will not be considered stable and dependable income for repayment purposes. Borrowers who wish to purchase a new principal residence and retain or rent a residence must qualify with all mortgage liability payments. Income from newly signed leases cannot be used in repayment debt ratio calculations. The exclusion of rental income will ensure the borrower has sufficient monthly income to meet all mortgage and liability payments.
- » Data entry in GUS for newly signed leases. The “REO” page in GUS must be completed properly to ensure rents are not used to offset any existing mortgage liability. The following steps to assure accurate data in GUS are required:
 - a. On the REO page, lenders must leave the “Gross Rental Income” field blank when completing the “Mortgage Payments” (if applicable) and “Insurance, Maintenance, and Taxes” data fields.
 - b. The mortgage obligation (if applicable) associated with the retained dwelling must be omitted on the “Assets and Liabilities” page in GUS. Omission of the mortgage obligation on the “Assets and Liabilities” page is necessary to avoid duplication/double counting of the debt since it is also reported on the “REO” page.
- » Non-GUS manually submitted files for newly signed leases. The existing mortgage obligation (including insurance, maintenance and taxes) associated with the retained dwelling must be counted as a long-term liability in the repayment ratio calculation. Rents received cannot be used to offset the mortgage obligation.

REMN WHOLESALE USDA PRODUCT GUIDELINES

Methods of Annual Income Calculation	Income Type	Definition of Income	Example Guidance	Example Calculation
	Straight Income	Straight is based upon the benefit or wage amount and converted to the annual equivalent.	An example of an employed borrower who is paid hourly and works 40 hours per week would be derived by multiplying the hourly wage by 2080 hours (for part-time employment use anticipated annual hours). If paid weekly, the weekly wage is multiplied by 52 weeks. Bi-weekly paid employee's wages are multiplied by 26 weeks and a monthly wage multiplied by 12 months.	For example: $$20/\text{hour} \times 2080 \text{ hours per year} (40 \text{ hours/week} \times 52 \text{ weeks/year}) = $41,600.$ Overtime paid at $$30/\text{hour} \times 50 \text{ hours/year} = $1,500.$ Total wages in this example: $$43,100.$
	Average Income	Average the income reported on the benefit statements or pay stubs for the last 30 days and convert to the annual equivalent.	An example of a borrower who is paid monthly each and every month the exact amount.	For example: The gross income received in the past 30 days if $$5,192$ as verified by pay stubs. Multiply $$5,192$ by 12 to arrive at the annual income of the household. $$5,192 \times 12 = $62,304$
	Year-To-Date (YTD)	Year-To Date (YTD) gross earnings divided by the YTD interval, which is the number of calendar days elapsed between January 1 of the current year and the last date of the most recent income verification multiplied by 365	The YTD interval should be closely examined to determine the appropriateness of this method. REMN WS should not use this method if the earnings activity during the YTD interval is insufficient to make an annual projection or does not reflect the likely earning activity for the period outside of the YTD interval (the time between the last date covered by the more recent income verification and December 31 of the current year).	For example: The borrower worked 230 days to date (e.g. August 18) and income earned during that time period is $$40,000.$ Divide $$40,000$ by 230 days, arrive at $$173.91/\text{day}$, then multiply by 365 to arrive at the annual income of $$63,477.15$
	Historical Income	Historical income as reported on the previous year's tax return is used.	Consider the time of year and the reasonableness of this approach. For example; if the income documentation submitted is for January of the current calendar year, the historical data from the previous year may be utilized.	For example: The date is January 15. The most representative income for the borrower is the previous 12 months. The borrower earned $$60,000$ in the previous tax year. The borrower worked all year. The anticipated annual income for the ensuing year is $$60,000.$

IRS 4506C Requirements

- » For USDA loans, tax transcripts are required on all loans. IRS transcripts are required for all required household members, except for full-time students.
- » REMN must obtain and review available transcripts prior to loan closing and retain them in the permanent loan file.
- » If REMN is unable to obtain transcripts from the IRS, an exception may be granted with approval from Credit Committee to obtain the transcripts post-closing. In such a case, document the correspondence to and from the IRS in the loan file to support the omissions.
- » A “failure to file” tax returns by the borrower, when legally required to do so and by the due date established by the IRS is not an eligible explanation to forego obtaining tax transcripts.

Assets such as 401k’s, IRA’s, etc. may be included in the underwriting analysis up to 60% of the vested value. Funds borrowed against these accounts may be used for loan closing but are not to be considered as cash reserves. The LOX validation is relevant to deposits that may be factored into other sources of income which may impact the family income calculation. » Verify that any recent debts were not incurred to obtain part, or all, of the required cash investment on the property being purchased.
Joint Access Letters	» When individuals, other than the borrowers, are on a bank account a joint access letter is always required.

Underwriting the Property

- » REMN WS must ensure the subject property meets the Agency's site guidelines. The site must be developed according to state or local government standards, which often are contained in zoning ordinances, building codes, subdivision regulations, and/or construction standards. In particular, sites must be in rural areas; meet community standards regarding utilities, including water and wastewater systems; meet street and road access and maintenance requirements; and contain other amenities essential to the continued marketability of the home.
- » The use of the property must comply with zoning and use restrictions. If the existing property does not comply with current zoning regulations, but is accepted by the zoning authority, it is considered a legal nonconforming property. The property is not eligible for an Agency guarantee when the use is not legal. The appraisal must reflect any adverse effect of the legal nonconforming use on the value and marketability of the property.
- » The economic life of a property must meet or exceed the term of the proposed loan. The appraiser may reject the property if the future economic life of the property is shortened by obvious and compelling pressure to a higher use, making a long-term mortgage impractical.

Site Requirements	<ul style="list-style-type: none">» Sites must be modest and developed in accordance with any standards imposed by a State or local government. Therefore, REMN WS must verify that the following requirements are met at the time of application.» Site size<ul style="list-style-type: none">– The site size must be typical for the area.» Income-Producing Buildings<ul style="list-style-type: none">– The property must not include buildings designed and to be used principally used for income-producing purposes.<ul style="list-style-type: none">▪ For example (barns, silos, greenhouses, or livestock facilities used primarily for income producing agricultural, farming or commercial enterprise are ineligible). However, barns used for storage and outbuildings such as storage sheds are permitted if they are not used primarily for income producing agricultural, farming or commercial enterprise. A minimal income-producing activity, such as maintaining a garden that generates a small amount of additional income, does not violate this requirement. Home-based operations such as childcare, product sales, or craft production that do not require specific features are not restricted. A qualified property must be predominantly residential in use, character and appearance.» Accessory Dwelling Unit<ul style="list-style-type: none">– The presence of a single ADU does not automatically render the property ineligible.<ul style="list-style-type: none">▪ Design features such as converted portions of existing homes that include a kitchenette or additional attached living area (e.g., bedroom and/or bathroom) without a separate address or independent utilities (e.g., water, gas, electricity) are not restricted, provided they function in support of only the household members. ADUs which function in support of the household members, such as multigenerational households are consistent with the objective of this program, however those designed to create a potential rental income stream are not.▪ The appraiser will determine if the ADU represents a second single family housing dwelling unit. Vacant land or properties used primarily for agricultural, farming or commercial enterprise are ineligible. A residential site that houses a minimal income producing feature (such as a windmill, billboard, cell phone tower, etc.) located on the property does not render the site income producing. These features are typically maintained with a legal agreement and generate a minimal amount of additional income.  - First lien position, by the lender, should be protected and maintained.
 - The property should maintain access to an alternative source of electric/gas power that meets community standards.
 - The energy company or lessee should not block any foreclosure or servicing actions.
 - If an agreement for an energy system lease or PPA could cause restriction upon transfer of the house, the property is subject to impermissible legal restrictions and is generally ineligible for the guaranteed loan.
 - The lease agreement or PPA should indicate that any damage that occurs as a result of installation, malfunction, manufacturing defect, or the removal of the solar panels is the responsibility of the owner of the equipment and the owner is obligated to repair the damage and return the improvements to their original or prior condition.
 - The lease agreement, PPA, or other agreement should indicate that the owner of the solar panels cannot be a loss payee on the homeowner's insurance policy.

Repair Escrows for Existing and New Dwellings

- » Repair escrows, post issuance of the Loan Note Guarantee, are acceptable provided the home is habitable, as determined by REMN WS. All items of new construction or repairs must be 100 percent (100%) complete in accordance with plans and specifications except for minor items not affecting the livability of the structure or that cannot be completed due to weather conditions. This does not apply to Single Close Combination Construction to Permanent Loans or Rehabilitation/Repair Loans. REMN WS assumes responsibility for completion of repairs in accordance with the conditions set forth in this section for any repair escrow established.
- » Repairs will be required to be completed within 180 days of loan closing. This period may be extended, at the discretion of the Agency, for homes that need exterior repairs but are in an area experiencing inclement weather conditions. The maximum exterior repair escrow period when an extension is granted is limited to 240 days. Extensions may be granted beyond 180 days for exterior escrows only.

Flood Hazards

- » REMN WS must complete, or arrange for a contractor to complete, FEMA Form 086-0-32, "Standard Flood Hazard Determination Form (SFHDF)" to determine whether the dwelling is located in a Special Flood Hazard Area (SFHA) in accordance with the National Flood Insurance Reform Act of 1994.
- » Existing dwellings are eligible under the SFHGLP only if flood insurance, through FEMA's National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP) is available for the community and flood insurance whether NFIP, "write your own", or private flood insurance (as approved by REMN WS) is purchased by the borrower.
- » REMN WS is required to accept private flood insurance policies that meet the requirements of 42 USC 4012a (b)(1)(A) and remain responsible for ensuring private policies continue to meet this requirement. Insurance must be obtained as a condition of closing and maintained for the life of the loan for existing residential structures when any portion of the structure is determined to be located in a SFHA, including decks and carports, etc. However, according to the Homeowner Flood Insurance Affordability Act (HFIAA) of 2014, flood insurance is not required for any additional structures that are located on the property but are detached from the primary residential structure and do not serve as a residence, such as sheds, garages, or other ancillary structures. Existing dwellings financed through the SFHGLP are not subject to the requirement within 7 CFR 1940 Subpart G Exhibit C which requires a search for practicable off-site alternatives to purchasing an existing dwelling within the SFHA.
- » New or proposed construction in an SFHA is ineligible for a loan guarantee unless:
 - A final Letter of Map Amendment (LOMA) or final Letter of Map Revision (LOMR) removes the property for the SFHA is obtained from FEMA, or:
 - REMN WS obtains a FEMA National Flood Insurance Program Elevation Certificate (FEMA Form FF-206-FY-22-152). The flood elevation certificate must document that the lowest floor (including the basement) of the residential building, and all related improvements/equipment essential to the value of the property, are built at or above the 100-year flood elevation in compliance with National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP) criteria. The flood elevation certificate must be prepared by a licensed engineer or surveyor.
 - Documentation is included in the file in accordance with 7 CFR 1940 Subpart G Exhibit C, that there is a demonstrated need for the SFHGLP and there are no practicable alternatives to new construction within the SFHA.
- » NOTE: Part of the site may be located in the SFHA without triggering these requirements, as long as no part of the dwelling is located in the SFHA. At REMN WS's discretion, flood insurance may be required even if the residential building and related improvements to the property are not located within the SFHA, but REMN WS has reason to believe that the building and related improvements to the property may be vulnerable to damage from flooding.
- » Flood insurance must cover the lesser of the outstanding principal balance of the loan or the maximum amount of coverage allowed under the FEMA's National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP). Unless a higher amount is required by state or federal law, the maximum deductible clause for a flood insurance policy should not exceed the greater of $1,000.00 or 1% of the face amount of the policy.
- » Existing dwellings and newly constructed dwellings located within the SFHA which are not served by public sewer systems and have on-site septic or sewage treatment systems must have a drinking water supply which is protected from cross contamination from the onsite septic/sewage treatment during flooding. A property serviced by an on-site septic or sewage treatment system is eligible under this Section, provided one of the following can be met:
 - The property is served by a publicly provided water supply.
 - The property is serviced by a private drinking water well/supply with a fitted sanitary well cap which prevents backflow floodwater from entering the drinking supply well.
 - The property is served by a private drinking water well/supply whose opening is located above the base flood elevation of the SFHA. Additional documentation, such as an elevation certificate, will be required to verify this type of property.
